LOGNOTE -- Chief, Operations Group, 15 August 1985

1. [redacted] phoned today seeking employment in Bangkok for his wife. They are being assigned there PCS in summer 1986. She is a technical editor working for E-Systems. She has full clearances and an Agency contract. Steve and his wife will be in full-time Thai language training until they depart for Thailand. I explained that our editing was like news editing and that her background did not really prepare her for work in FBIS without considerable training in our kind of rapid copy handling. I said it might be that we could use her on contract as an associate editor, and told him what an associate did. I gave him [redacted] name and phone and told him to get in touch with DRD later. We would not be reviewing staffing needs until next year in any case. [redacted]
